

Dominó Concreto Bench

by Claudia Moreira Salles, 2014

The Dominó Bench is a reference to Mies Van der Rohe's "Barcelona Couch." In Moreira Salles' design, the rectangular bench surface has circular indentations which define each seating place and provide additional comfort, and a horizontal cylinder separates the seating area. Suitable for both indoor and outdoor spaces.

- Base structure made of stainless steel
- Seating available in charcoal, light grey and coral concrete
- Cylinder bolster feature available in wood or concrete
