Tatuíra Low Chair

by Attom, 2019

This piece is part of the Attom collection by Carlos Motta and his son, Diego Motta: utilitarian designs for the everyday created with sustainable materials and with responsible production choices. It is handmade by Riberinhos, whose home is the Amazon, and is characterized by its close proximity to the ground and longer seat; it is charming, yet humble, and a compliment to any space.

- Made in Muiracatiara wood, certified by the FSC
- Part of the Attom collection

Attom

ATTOM emerged naturally and organically from a desire to share the results of decades of experience creating products, transforming used garments, and exploring comfort and compelling aesthetics.

The company was established in a warehouse beside a woodworking shop that has been operating for more than 45 years. This simple space serves as a studio, workshop, and store, a place where ATTOM develops products and creates comfortable, thoughtfully made pieces that combine responsibility, quality, and beauty. The brand values both personal and professional connections with its clients, making each relationship meaningful and unique.

ATTOM develops clothing, furniture, and functional objects guided by the principles of sustainability and social and environmental responsibility. The company remains committed to evolving within these values, creating not only products but also experiences that reflect its principles and purpose.
