

Estrela Dining Chair

by Carlos Motta, 1979

Designed in 1979, and presented in an exhibition at Bahia's Museum of Modern Art, this chair, whose name fittingly translates to star from Portuguese, quickly received international recognition, receiving awards like the II Prêmio Museu da Casa Brasileira, in 1987. Furthermore, at the chair's top center, is a carved star. The chair's distinguished comfort is generated by the anatomical shape of its seat, and flexible backrest, made of peanut wood strips.
